

Dear Parents,

We've had a sporty week in preparation for non-uniform on Friday! Tuesday afternoon we brushed up on our bat and ball skills. We practised bowling to each other and striking that ball back. Then we had a bat each and tried to develop some tennis expertise!

On Wednesday afternoon we played lots of relay team games that got increasingly challenging. The class were very good-natured. they cheered their team on and encouraged each other, often the last person to sit down got a round of applause which was very touching.

In maths this week we have practised reading scales. We have read the scale on a thermometer and taken the temperature in and out of the classroom ("Mrs Martin -it's going down!" ..."Yes the temperature is less out here -haven't you noticed it freezing?!") Next week we shall be consolidating our reasoning in addition and subtraction using word problems.

In English we have had a non-fiction week all about wolves! This linked to the wolves from our traditional tales work. The class read lots of non-fiction fact files, wrote their own favourite facts, organised sub-headings and questions, pictures and a title! The finished booklets are fantastic and you should look out for them next Book Look!

Next week we shall be starting some work on poetry.

Have a lovely weekend,

Mrs Martin
