Guidance
Children and young people across the country have experienced unprecedented disruption to their education as a result of coronavirus (COVID-19). Those from the most vulnerable and disadvantaged backgrounds will be among those hardest hit. The aggregate impact of lost time in education will be substantial, and the scale of our response must match the scale of the challenge. Schools' allocations will be calculated on a per pupil basis, providing each mainstream school with a total of £80 for each pupil in years reception through to 11. As the catch-up premium has been designed to mitigate the effects of the unique disruption caused by coronavirus (COVID-19), the grant will only be available for the 2020 to 2021 academic year. It will not be added to schools' baselines in calculating future years' funding allocations.

Use of Funds	EEF Recommendations
Schools should use this funding for specific activities to support their pupils to catch up for lost teaching over the previous months, in line with the guidance on curriculum expectations for the next academic year. Schools have the flexibility to spend their funding in the best way for their cohort and circumstances. To support schools to make the best use of this funding, the Education Endowment Foundation (EEF) has published a coronavirus (COVID-19) support guide for schools with evidence-based approaches to catch up for all students. Schools	The EEF advises the following: Teaching and whole school strategies <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ➤ Supporting great teaching ➤ Pupil assessment and feedback ➤ Transition support Targeted approaches <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ➤ One to one and small group tuition ➤ Intervention programmes

Identified impact of lockdown

Special Educational Needs support	Children who have been identified as SEN now have significant gaps in knowledge – whole units of work have not been taught/ or learning has not taken place with the support the child needs to succeed, meaning that children are less able to access pre-requisite knowledge when learning something new and they are less likely to make connections between concepts and themes throughout the curriculum. Children who were succeeding in class with Quality First Teaching and now needing more focused support due to significant gaps having developed through lockdown.
Speech and Language	Children who have been identified with speech and language difficulties received no focused support in lockdown. Therefore, correct speech and use of language has been negatively impacted. Children have lost opportunities to learn sounds due to the increase of facemasks. Children have also joined the school in reception who needs speech and language support, so as a school we have the highest register of names needing support.
Reading	Children have read less during lockdown more than any other subject, even though this is something that was more accessible for families and required less teacher input. Baseline information is showing skills of reading have been forgotten.
Non-core	There are now significant gaps in knowledge – whole units of work have not been taught meaning that children are less able to access pre-requisite knowledge when learning something new and they are less likely to make connections between concepts and themes throughout the curriculum. Children have also missed out on the curriculum experiences e.g. trips, visitors and powerful curriculum moments.
