Kent County Council (KCC) is seeking views on how the Specialist Teaching and Learning Service (STLS) might fit within new ways of working that are being introduced as part of the ongoing transformation of Special Education Needs and Disabilities (SEND) services in Kent.

New ways of working in Kent and changes to legislation across the country mean we will continue to adapt the services that we provide to support children and young people with SEND. As new ways of working are implemented, and the transformation of SEND services continues, we want to understand how STLS might fit within these new ways of working, whether there are gaps the service might fill, how it can support children to achieve the outcomes important to them and how it might contribute to a financially sustainable model for the future.

How to get involved

We recommend that you read the Consultation Document before responding to one of the online questionnaires. Parents/carers and other individuals should use the Residents questionnaire. Professionals, schools and settings should use the Professionals questionnaire. Alternatively, you may wish fill in a Word/paper version and return it by email to: inclusion@kent.gov.uk or by post to: Children's Commissioning, Invicta House, County Hall, Maidstone, Kent ME14 1XX
